SOUTHWEST TENNESSEE COMMUNITY COLLEGE, founded July 1, 2000, is a comprehensive, multicultural, public, open-access college. It is one of the largest community colleges in the Tennessee Board of Regents system.

Southwest awards Associate of Arts and Associate of Science degrees for transfer to four-year colleges and universities, Associate of Applied Science degrees for immediate career entry, and technical certificates to prepare for entry-level positions. Areas of study include liberal studies, fine arts and humanities, natural and physical sciences, social and behavioral sciences, mathematics, allied health sciences, nursing, business studies, information technologies, engineering and related technologies, criminal justice, and education. The College is ever vigilant to incorporate new technologies and disciplines into the curriculum to serve new educational needs as they arise and are recognized by the community.

It is the College's mission to anticipate and respond to the educational needs of students, employers and communities in Shelby and Fayette counties and the surrounding Mid-South region; and to provide an effective teaching and learning environment designed to raise educational levels, enhance economic development and enrich personal lives.

Southwest Tennessee Community College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia, 30033-4097, Telephone number (404) 679-4501) to award the Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, and Associate of Science in Teaching degrees, as well as certificates.

Beverly C. Robertson currently serves as president and CEO of the Greater Memphis Chamber. She also is principal of TRUST Marketing (TRUST) and retired president of the National Civil Rights Museum (NCRM).

Robertson has amassed more than 30 years of experience in public and community relations, strategic planning, and research. Working with TRUST since 1992, she has been responsible for landing such national accounts as the Promus Companies, Holiday Inn Worldwide, Midas International, and Merrill Lynch, just to name a few. Other major accounts include the City of Memphis, Shelby County Government, LeMoyne-Owen College, and Memphis Area Transit Authority. She also has provided leadership and strategy to a number of grassroots and community-building initiatives.

Beverly Robertson, President & CEO
Greater Memphis Chamber

During her illustrious 18-year tenure at the NCRM, Robertson steered capital campaigns that raised $43 million to fund such landmark projects as the museum’s $11 million expansion. She also established its first-ever endowment and supported other initiatives that led to the museum being regarded as a crown jewel in Memphis and a national and international beacon of civil rights history. It was Robertson who envisioned and engineered the historic visit of civil rights luminary and former president of South Africa, Nelson Mandela, to Memphis in 2000 to receive the museum’s highest honor—the Freedom Award. In 2010, the USA Today named the NCRM as one of the top ten national treasures.

Robertson holds a Bachelor of Science in Special Education (1973) from the University of Memphis. She also studied executive leadership at the University of Pennsylvania, the Wharton School of Business and the Getty Institute. Her words of wisdom: “You’ve never lived a perfect day until you’ve done something for someone they could never do for themselves.”

The path to obtaining an Associate of Science in Accounting took many unexpected turns for Brandon Johnson. A native Memphian from the Whitehaven area, he began his studies at Southwest in the fall of 2017 after an unfortunate car accident detoured his freshman year at Western Kentucky University.

Johnson returned to Memphis and underwent six surgeries in the span of a year. After months of rehabilitation, he slowly regained his ability to walk again. During his recovery, Johnson worked in the hospitality industry as a bookkeeper and accountant. It took him seven years to recover financially and physically from the accident before he could consider returning to higher education to fulfill his career ambitions. While he considered several other local colleges, it was the small class size, student-centric culture and abundant resources and support for adult learners that drew the 27-year-old to Southwest Tennessee Community College. He knew Southwest was the ideal place to transition back into higher education.

Brandon J. Johnson

Since then, Johnson has excelled academically, maintaining a 3.75 GPA, all while being an integral member of the campus community. He served as a student ambassador and was an active member of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and Project M.O.S.T. (Men of Southwest Tennessee), organizations that allowed him to rediscover his passion for networking and serving the community. As a mentor and volunteer ambassador, Johnson often shared this personal motto with fellow adult students: “Be who you needed when you were eighteen.” He also encouraged his fellow students to emulate and embrace the characteristics of the life heroes who helped them cross the bridge from adolescence to adulthood.

Johnson has not let life’s ups and downs and twists and turns deter him. From not knowing whether he would ever walk again to the trepidation of returning to school with a younger generation of students, he has continued on the path and kept a laser focus on his ultimate destination—a four-year college degree. Today, he is the first in the Johnson family to earn a college degree. This fall, he plans to return to Western Kentucky University to pursue a bachelor’s degree in management and, thereafter, a Master of Business Administration.

The Seal of Southwest Tennessee Community College

The College Seal, much like a heraldic coat of arms, is symbolic of the College’s aspirations and mission. Southwest Tennessee Community College has incorporated both ancient and new elements and symbols into a seal that is 21st Century in design, to signify the College’s origin in this millennium and its commitment to the future.

The Southwest Seal is a circle, centered by a shield, which is quartered to hold four “charges,” denoting the general programs the College offers. The Torch, a symbol of general education, also stands for guidance, knowledge and enlightenment – the flame that lights the darkness of ignorance. The Gears represent the wide range of technological programs. The Atom, the most modern ideogram, symbolizes the natural sciences. The Caduceus, the most ancient symbol, illustrates the medical arts.

The Open Book, in the very center of the Seal, symbolizes knowledge and the wisdom of the universe. The Laurel Leaves, on which the shield rests, proclaim achievement, excellence and triumph. Finally, the Motto, KNOWLEDGE SERVICE OPPORTUNITY, sums up the Mission of the College.

Colors of the Seal:

The College’s official colors are red (signifying life and warmth) and blue (signifying calm, reflection, and intellect).

Use of the Seal:

The Seal is used officially to authenticate documents, such as diplomas, transcripts, and in jewelry, such as college rings and nursing pins. It is engraved on the College Mace, which is carried in solemn procession by the faculty senate president, symbolic protector of the president of the College.

Presidential Medallion

Bearing the seal of Southwest Tennessee Community College, the Medallion is symbolic of the College and represents the Office of the President. Worn by the President only during formal academic events, it signifies authority, trust, leadership, accomplishment and continuity of tradition. The sterling silver medallion, coin-struck with the College Seal, is supported by a double strand of silver links with eight sculpted silver shields. Each shield will eventually be engraved with the name and dates of tenure of a president of the College. The Medallion is a gift to the College from the Southwest Foundation.

The College Mace

The mace is an ancient symbol of authority, usually a spiked club, carried in ceremony before a king or other ruler by an officer charged with his protection. The College Mace is an ornamental “Lamp of Knowledge,” representing the body of learning imparted by the faculty to enlighten students, and also symbolizing authority as embodied in the president of the College. The silver lamp is engraved with the College Seal and is mounted on a staff of silver and carved wood. The president of the Faculty Senate carries the mace before the College president during Commencement and other ceremonial occasions as a symbol of the protector of knowledge.

Academic Regalia

Academic dress originated at universities in the Middle Ages when a warm gown and hood were necessary in unheated buildings. For centuries these gowns distinguished students from their fellow citizens; sometimes this distinction in dress symbolized unfortunate controversies between “town and gown.” The European habit of using academic robes came to this country in the eighteenth century with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, American universities and colleges standardized their styles of academic costumes, and this system, with occasional modifications, still is in force. Today, the various colors, trimmings and patterns of gown, hood and cap are all traditional and symbolize both the degree and field of learning.

GOWNS: American academic gowns are usually of black material, and their pattern varies with the degree held. The bachelor’s gowns are relatively simple in design with a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master’s gowns have an open front with long, closed sleeves, the arms extending through a slit at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. Doctoral gowns are the most elaborate, with velvet panels down the open front and three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves.

HOODS: The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees (bachelor’s, master’s and doctor’s), are lined with the colors of the institution that granted the degree. Hoods are also trimmed with the color that heralds the major field of learning.

CAPS: A square mortarboard is the approved headgear. The tassel, fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap, is black or the color appropriate to the subject; it may be gold if the holder has a doctoral degree. Southwest Tennessee Community College has adopted the practice of having candidates for the associate degree wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and shift them to the left at the moment the degrees are awarded to them. In the last few years, many universities have returned to a distinctive gown design, using colors associated with the college or university. Some have replaced the mortarboard with a soft velvet tam with a gold tassel.

Hood and tassel colors represent categories of learning. All hoods are edged with the colors listed below. The same colors may be used for the facing and sleeve bars of doctoral gowns and tassels on bachelor’s and master’s caps.
